

Comprehensive Examination and Reading List in Spanish Languages and Literatures (for both MA-LLC and MA-LLCP)

The reading list is revised and updated periodically by the Graduate faculty.

Revised January 2021

This list covers the Language, Literature and Culture portion of both the MA-LLC and MA-LLCP degrees. MA-LLCP students will consult the Foreign Language Pedagogy list for pedagogy-related procedures and readings.

Part One: The Exam

The examination for the MA degree in Languages, Literatures and Cultures is designed to test the student's mastery of the works of Hispanic literature on the MA Reading list. It emphasizes not only the content (plot, setting, characters, etc.) of each work but also its implicit values and its aesthetic and philosophical underpinnings. An understanding of the contribution of each work to its own period is expected. Students should have a grasp both of the major Spanish literary movements and of the cultural and historical context in which they arose. The exam is administered in November/December and in April/May of each academic year and has two parts: written and oral. Both the written and the oral portions of the exam are conducted entirely in Spanish.

Students must submit their finalized reading lists to their GSC language representative by the last day of September (fall exams) or the last day of February (spring exams).

A. The Written Examination

MA-LLC students will choose six of seven literary periods/areas to prepare for the exam. Students must have taken at least one course in the period/area not selected. Students must have taken at least one course in seven different literary periods or areas, and they must select six of those periods/areas for their written examination.

The written examination will focus on the Reading Lists for the six periods/areas chosen. It will consist of:

1. Six short essays/identifications, one for each period/area (60-75 minutes).
2. Longer, focused essay in the period/area of the student's choice (60-90 minutes).
3. Textual Analysis: an organized analytical description of a text selected from a period other than the one the student has chosen for the focused essay. (60-75 minutes)

Four hours will be allotted for the examination; the time limit will be strictly observed.

MA-LLCP students must have taken at least one course in five different literary periods or areas, and they must select four of those periods/areas for their written examination.

The literature/culture exam for MA-LLCP students will have two parts as follows:

1. Four short essays/ identifications, one for each period/area. (60-75 minutes)
2. Textual Analysis: an organized analytical description of a text selected by the examination committee from one of the four periods chosen by the student for the part 1. (60-75 minutes)

Three hours will be allotted for this examination; the time limit will be strictly observed.

Between the written and oral exam:

After the written examination, students may contact their Graduate Studies representative for general feedback during the time period that precedes the oral examination.

In cases where the written exam is a clear failure that cannot be redeemed by a strong oral exam, students will be informed that they may not take the oral. Students who fail all or part of the MA comprehensive exams may retake the exam (or part thereof) only once.

B. The Oral Examination

The oral exam of MA-LLC students will focus on the Reading Lists for three out of six periods/areas chosen (randomly selected by the examination committee), course work, and any questions arising from the written examination. 30 minutes will be allotted for this portion of the exam.

The oral exam of MA-LLCP students will focus on the Reading Lists for two out of four periods/areas chosen (randomly selected by the examination committee), course work, and any questions arising from the written examination. 30 minutes will be allotted for this portion of the exam.

Part Two: The Reading List

MA-LLC students create a reading list individualized to their specific program of study.

1. To individualize their list, each student selects 7 works from each of 6 of the 7 literary periods/ areas.
2. To this list, 10 additional literary works may be chosen from among course materials; theoretical or critical works may also be chosen upon approval by a faculty adviser or graduate studies adviser. These materials should represent a focused study on a specific period or author, or a concentration (for example, children's literature, new approaches to the canon, creative writing, new media studies, film studies, material culture studies, urban studies, genre studies, gender studies).
3. NB: If a student selects material falling outside of the selected literary periods/areas as part of their additional literary works, their examination may include extra questions.

MA-LLCP students will have a reduced reading list and a reduced number of periods/areas to prepare for their literature/culture examination.

1. To individualize their list, each student selects 5 works from 4 of the 7 literary periods/areas.
2. To this list, 3 additional literary works may be chosen from among course materials; theoretical or critical works may also be chosen upon approval by a faculty adviser or graduate studies adviser. These materials should represent a focused study on a specific period or author, or a concentration (for example, children's literature, new approaches to the canon, creative writing, new media studies, film studies, material culture studies, urban studies, genre studies, gender studies).
3. NB: If a student selects material falling outside of the selected literary periods/areas as part of their additional literary works, their examination may include extra questions
